Dear Mr Przybylak,

we would like to inform you that we are very satisfied to have your company's advanced earthquake warning system "secty lifePatron" installed at our consulate as we are aware of the fact that Istanbul is located in an area which is under a potential threat of an earthquake and as we know that early warning even only a few seconds before a coming earthquake can save many lives.

The level of sensitivity has been put to "02" which should assure that we will be warned well in advance.

All staff of the Consulate has got respective instructions how to behave during an earthquake so with the combination of our current knowledge and your device the lives and health of the employees of the Consulate are protected to a most possible extent.

Yours sincerely,

František Štěpánek
consul general
